

Published on ADTTL (<http://www.adttl.co.uk>)

Home > GDPR

GDPR

Wed, 28/03/2018 - 18:46 -- Dave Brown

As you may know greater data protection rules will be coming into place in late May this year. This may well require each and every one of the members of the league signing some paperwork to acknowledge the data which is currently held on you by the League on behalf of TTE. Currently this definitely includes name, address, dob and nationality (this is the bare minimum to get registered with TTE). You might also have declared your phone number, e mail and ethnicity.

So if you suddenly receive a consent form then please sign it and return asap.

However I am just trying to fully understand the implications and, if there is any member who is familiar with the legislation through another organisation, any advice will be gratefully received.

Please share this with any players who do not visit the site regularly.

Thanks

Dave Brown

Source URL: <http://www.adttl.co.uk/?q=node/387>